

Supply and Services (CMF 92) Career Progression Plan

Chapter 1 Duties

The Quartermaster Corps performs supply and services functions for the Army for all classes of supply except medical and ammunition. The Quartermaster Corps is responsible for Supply Support, Field Services, Aerial Delivery Support, Materiel and Distribution Management, Combat Developments, Doctrine Training and Professional Development of all three components, civilian personnel, Allies in Quartermaster proponent and common skills areas. Note. All Quartermaster CMFs and MOSs are open to male and female Soldiers; however, DCPC coding of positions precludes assignment of females to certain combat arms units.

Chapter 2 Transformation

The U.S. Army Quartermaster Corps is the nation's oldest combat service support branch. Conversion to operational Army units was one of the most significant changes in our Armed Forces since World War II. As modern warfare increases in technological sophistication, speed, and complexity—so must our logistics systems change. The underlying duties and functions of the Quartermaster Enlisted Soldier will not change; how we do them will. We will move from a supply-based system that relies on logistics mass, to a system which relies more heavily on information supremacy and distribution agility and exploits improvements in logistics velocity and automation. To provide continued support to the Army's Brigade Combat Teams; Quartermaster Soldiers must continuously refocus themselves for this new and evolving environment and apply the same innovation, teamwork, battle focus, selfless service and professionalism that made us so successful during the past 241 years. The Quartermaster Corps requires Soldiers who are technically and tactically competent and NCOs who are, first and foremost leaders of Soldiers. Noncommissioned Officer must be multidimensional logisticians that are technically and tactically proficient in logistics operations at all echelons, tactical, operational, and strategic, not only in an Army environment but joint and international. Noncommissioned officers must also seek out the tough assignments and training to be prepared to perform at their current and next rank. NCOs must also ensure that the younger Quartermaster Soldiers can perform their individual MOS tasks and constantly be a role model. To ensure the Quartermaster Corps transforms with the Army successfully, we need all Quartermasters working together, Soldiers, NCOs, Warrant Officers, Officers and Civilians across the total force. In the history of our Army, no major operation has ever failed because Quartermaster failed to provide the right supplies, at the right time and place, and in the right quantities. Quartermaster Soldiers are expected to continue these traditions as our Army Sustainment transitions to fully auditable operations through Global Command and Control System – Army (GCCS-A). Demanding assignments for CMF 92 include but are not limited to Special Operations Command (SOCOM), Theater Special Operations Command (TSOC), Joint Special Operations Command (JSOC), and United States Army Command (USASOC). There are numerous assignment opportunities within USASOC to include 1st Special Forces Command (SFC), United States Army JFK Special Warfare Center and School (USAJFKSWCS), Army Special Operations Aviation Command (ARSOAC), 75th Ranger Regiment, 160th Special Operations Aviation Regiment (SOAR), and Special Mission Units (SMU). Soldiers assigned to these commands could have longer than normal utilization tours due to mission and training requirements. These positions should be considered as career enhancing assignments. Career Manager/Development NCO, Training with Industry, Special Duty Assignments such as Enlisted Aid (EA), Inspector General (IG), Equal Opportunity Advisor (EOA), Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC), Recruiter, First Sergeant, Platoon Sergeant, AIT Platoon Sergeant, Instructor and Writer, Drill Sergeant Linguist positions, and Security Force Assistance Brigade (SFAB) positions should be considered as broadening assignments. Soldiers who have successively served in a career enhancing or broadening assignment(s) should be considered as highly competitive for promotion.

Chapter 3 Recommend Career Management Self-Development by Rank

a. Private E-1 - Specialist/Corporal.

(1) The quality and success of a Soldier's career is in direct proportion to the Soldier's consistent commitment to excellence, regardless of the mission. Soldiers committed to achieving high goals will develop leadership skills, talent and have the practical knowledge and ambition to put them to good use.

(2) Soldiers should study and master the following military publications: ADP 1, The Army, ADP 1-02, Operational Terms and Symbols, ADP 2, Intelligence, ADP 3, Unified Land Operations, ADP 4-0, Sustainment, ADP 5, The Operations Process, ADP 6, Mission Command, ADP 6-22, Army Leadership, ADP 7-0, Training Units and Developing Leaders. STP 21-1, Soldier's Manual of Common Tasks; TC 3-21.5, Drill and Ceremonies; TC 3-25.26, Map Reading and Land Navigation; TC 3-22.20, Physical Fitness Training; TC 4-25.11, First Aid for Soldiers; TC 21-75, Combat Skills of the Soldier; AR 670-1, Wear and Appearance of Army Uniforms and Insignia; all -10 level maintenance manuals associated with their equipment; and battle drills associated with their current assignment.

(3) The following is suggested for self-development: FM 7-22.7, AKO, and <http://www.train.army.mil/> contain additional reading material.

(4) The OPTEMPO of tactical assignments may limit the opportunity for civilian education; however, those Soldiers willing to make the required sacrifices should seize the available opportunities. CLEP and DANTES are available for those Soldiers unable to pursue formal civilian courses. These self-development options are based on the Soldier's own desire to excel. Ample opportunities exist for Soldiers to participate in various correspondence courses to accomplish individual educational objectives. Soldiers with GT scores below 100 should seek to improve their scores through FAST, as it will limit their ability for developmental assignments in the future. Taking additional civilian education courses such as English composition and basic mathematics will prepare Soldiers for the AFCT and improve promotion potential. Every Soldier must ensure they enroll and complete their Self Structured Development 1 (SSD1) to commensurate with their grade as attendance to Professional Military Education will be restricted until completed.

(5) The ACCP also provides excellent educational advancements in continued education, leadership and technical proficiency. Education opportunities can be found at the ACES website. CLEP and DANTES tests are other resources for converting previously acquired knowledge or training into college credit. College education is a critical piece of the self-development program and logisticians should plan their college program around a degree that relates to their MOS using information provided on the SOCAD website. Soldiers may also enroll in GOARMYED, an Army program that gives Soldiers the opportunity to pursue a degree program completely online.

(6) Soldier boards, such as Soldier of the Quarter/Year, broaden their knowledge base, instill discipline and improve the Soldier's ability to communicate verbally.

(7) Soldiers may also earn promotion points for Technical Certification, a list of certifications can be found on the COOL website at <http://www.cool.army.mil>. For information on these and other education programs, visit the Army Education Center on your installation. Every Soldier should explore and complete appropriate credentials for their military occupational specialties and/or additional training they have been provided as it demonstrates to leaders and the Army that they have mastered those skills.

b. Sergeant.

(1) The quality and success of a Sergeant's career is in direct proportion to a consistent commitment to excellence, regardless of the mission. Sergeants committed to achieving high goals will develop leadership skills and have the practical knowledge and ambition to put them to good use.

(2) Sergeants should study and master the following military publications: STP 21-24, Soldier's Manual of Common Tasks Skill Levels 2, 3, ADP 1, The Army, ADP 1-02, Operational Terms and Symbols, ADP 2, Intelligence, ADP 3, Unified Land Operations, ADP 4-0, Sustainment, ADP 5, The Operations Process, ADP 6, Mission Command, ADP 6-22, Army Leadership, ADP 7-0, Training Units and Developing Leaders; TC 3-21.18, Foot Marches; , FM 7-21.13, The Soldiers Guide, 7-22, Army Physical Readiness Training; all -10 level maintenance manuals associated with their equipment and battle drills associated with their current assignment.

(3) The following is suggested for self-development: FM 7-22.7, AKO, and <http://www.train.army.mil/> contain additional reading material.

(4) The OPTEMPO of operational assignments may limit the opportunity for civilian education; however, those Sergeants willing to make the required sacrifices should seize the available opportunities. Soldiers with GT scores below 100 should seek to improve their scores through FAST, as it will limit their ability for developmental assignments in the future. Pursuing a college education at this level is not a mandatory requirement but one that will place you above your peers. Soldiers should plan their college program around a degree that relates to their MOS using information provided on the SOCAD website. Every Soldier must ensure they enroll and complete their Self Structured Development 2 (SSD 2) to commensurate with their grade as attendance to Professional Military Education will be restricted until completed.

(5) Soldier boards such as NCO of the Quarter/Year and the Sergeant Audie Murphy/Sergeant Morales Clubs broaden the knowledge base, instill discipline and improve the Soldier's ability to communicate verbally.

(6) The ACCP also provides excellent educational advancements in continued education, leadership and technical proficiency. Education opportunities can be found at the ACES website. Soldiers may also gain specific MOS knowledge through the ACT <https://actnow.army.mil>.

(7) Soldiers may also earn promotion points for Technical Certification, a list of certifications can be found on the COOL website at <http://www.cool.army.mil>. For information on these and other education programs, visit the Army Education Center on your installation. Every Soldier should explore and complete appropriate credentials for their military occupational specialties and/or additional training they have been provided, as it demonstrates to leaders and the Army that they have mastered those skills.

c. Staff Sergeant

(1) The quality and success of a Staff Sergeant's career is in direct proportion to a consistent commitment to excellence, regardless of the mission. Staff Sergeants who are committed to achieving high goals will develop leadership skills and have the practical knowledge and ambition to put them to good use. These NCOs are now directly responsible for directing several operations simultaneously with up to 12 Soldiers on individual or shift work. These NCOs should study and master the additional military publications: STP 21-24, Soldier's Manual of Common Tasks Skill Levels 2, 3, and 4; DA Pam 600-25, U.S. Army Noncommissioned Officer Professional Development Guide; FM 3.0, Urban Operations; FM 3-22.9, Rifle Marksmanship, M16/M4 Series Weapons; FM 3-23.35, Combat Training with Pistols, M9 and M11; FM 3-90.6, Brigade Combat Team; FM 4-40, Quartermaster Operations; FM 4-95, Logistics Operations; FM 22-5, Guard Duty-10 level maintenance manuals associated with their equipment; and battle drills associated with their current assignment.

(2) The following is suggested for self-development: FM 7-22.7, AKO, and <http://www.train.army.mil/> contain additional reading material for self-development.

(3) The OPTEMPO of operational assignments may limit the opportunity for civilian education; however, those Staff Sergeants willing to make the required sacrifices should seize the available opportunities. Soldiers should plan their college program around a degree that relates to their MOS using information provided on the SOCAD website. Every Soldier must ensure they enroll and complete their Self Structured Development 3 (SSD 3) to commensurate with their grade as attendance to Professional Military Education will be restricted until completed. These self-development options are based on the SSG's own desire to excel. At this stage, Staff Sergeants should seek opportunities to pursue degree completion. Ample opportunities exist for Soldiers to participate in various correspondence courses to accomplish individual educational objectives.

(4) The ACCP also provides excellent educational advancements in continued education, leadership and technical proficiency. Education opportunities can be found at the ACES website.

(5) Quartermaster Soldiers must seek career enhancing and broadening opportunities in order to prepare themselves for future assignments and utilization across the Army. Some broadening and career enhancing opportunities available are Training with Industry, AIT Platoon Sergeant, Instructor and Writer, Drill Sergeant, Recruiter, Enlisted Aide, Special Operations, including Ranger Regiment, Equal Opportunity Leader, Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP), and Master Resiliency. These positions are extremely difficult to qualify for and limited to a very small population.

(6) Soldiers should also consider entering a technician program to gain nationally recognized credentials in an appropriate technical discipline. Soldiers may also earn promotion points for Technical Certification, a list of certifications can be found listed on the COOL website at <http://www.cool.army.mil>. For information on these and other education programs, visit the Army Education Center on your installation. Every Soldier should explore and complete appropriate credentials for their military occupational specialties and/or additional training they have been provided as it demonstrates to leaders and the Army that they have mastered those skills.

(7) Soldiers may be recognized with the following Quartermaster Awards if they meet the specific criteria: Order of Saint Martin, Food Services Specialist of the Quarter/Year, Philip A. Connelly Award (Dining Facility), Supply Excellence Award (SEA), SGM John C. Marigliano Award (Water Purification), and Culinary Arts Competition Awardees.

d. Sergeant First Class.

(1) As NCOs become more senior in rank, self-motivated development becomes more important. Activities like professional reading or college courses help the Senior NCO develop organizational leadership skills needed to coach, teach and mentor Soldiers. Strive to complete a degree program. A college degree is not required for promotion but can be a deciding factor when it comes to the best qualified.

(2) These NCOs should study and master the following additional military publications: FM 1-0, Human Resources Support; FM 1-05, Religious Support; FM 1-06, Financial Management; FM 2-22.3, Human Intelligence Collector Operations; FM 3-05, Army Special Operations; FM 3-61, Public Affairs Operations; FM 3-63, Detainee Operations; FM 4-3, Ordnance Operations; FM 4-95, Logistics Operations; FM 7-15, The Army Universal Task List; FM 2710, The Law of Land Warfare; AR 30-22, AR 58-1 Management, Acquisition, and use of Motor Vehicles; AR 215-1, Military MWR Programs; AR 350-1, Army Training and Leader Development; AR 600-8-1, Army Causality Program; AR 600-8-2, Suspension of Favorable Actions (FLAGS); AR 600-8-19 Enlisted Promotions; AR 700-84, Issue and Sale of Personal Clothing; AR 710-2, Supply Policy Below the National Level; AR 735-5, Property Accountability Policies; AR 750-1, Army Materiel Maintenance Policy; AR 840-10, Flags, Guidons, Streamers, Tabards and Automobile and Aircraft Plates; all -10 level maintenance manuals associated with their equipment; and battle drills associated with their current assignment.

(3) The following is suggested for self-development: FM 7-22.7, AKO, and <http://www.train.army.mil/> contain additional reading material for self-development.

(4) The OPTEMPO of operational assignments may limit the opportunity for civilian education; however, those Sergeant First Class's willing to make the required sacrifices should seize the available opportunities. The self-development process should now shift to advanced skills. The Sergeant First Class must continue to remain competent in technical fields while focusing on broadening management and doctrinal knowledge. Every Soldier must ensure they enroll and complete their Self Structured Development 4 (SSD 4) to commensurate with their grade as attendance to Professional Military Education will be restricted until completed. Subjects such as organizational behavior, personnel management, time management, Army operations, and battle staff functions should be emphasized as essential to a Sergeant First Class. Sergeant First Class's should strive to attend Additional Skill Identifier courses as defined by their career map such as Battle Staff and Skills Qualification Identifier, Airborne and Jumpmaster. Sergeant First Class's that complete one or multiple broadening or career enhancing assignments are considered highly competitive for promotion and utilization at advanced strategic locations in the future. A well broadened NCO will have assignments throughout the Army that clearly show the Soldier has been challenged and has met or exceeded the standards of that challenge. In some instances, a senior leader will be managed by the talents they possess and should be considered favorably for promotion.

(5) Quartermaster Soldiers must seek career enhancing and broadening opportunities in order to prepare themselves for future assignments and utilization across the Army. Some broadening and career enhancing opportunities available are Training with Industry, AIT Platoon Sergeant, Instructor and Writer, Drill Sergeant, Recruiter, Enlisted Aide, Special Operations, including Ranger Regiment, Equal Opportunity Leader, Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP), and Master Resiliency. These positions are extremely difficult to qualify for and limited to a very small population.

(6) The ACCP also provides excellent educational advancements in continued education, leadership and technical proficiency. Education opportunities can be found at the ACES website.

(7) Soldiers should also consider entering a technician program to gain nationally recognized credentials in an appropriate technical discipline. Soldiers may also earn promotion points for Technical Certification, a list of certifications can be found on the COOL website at <http://www.cool.army.mil>. For information on these and other education programs, visit the Army Education Center on your installation. Soldiers should explore and complete appropriate credentials for their military occupational specialties and/or additional training they have been provided as it demonstrates to leaders and the Army that they have mastered those skills.

(8) Soldiers may be recognized with the following Quartermaster Awards, if they meet the specific criteria: Order of Saint Martin, Food Services Specialist of the Quarter/Year, Philip A. Connelly Award (Dining Facility), Supply Excellence Award (SEA), SGM John C. Marigliano Award (Water Purification), Culinary Arts Competition Awardees, and the General Brehon B. Sommervell Medallion.

e. Master Sergeant/First Sergeant.

(1) As NCOs become more senior in rank, self-motivated development becomes more important. Activities like professional reading or college courses help the Senior NCO develop organizational leadership skills needed to coach, teach, and mentor Soldiers. Limited authorizations and fiercely competitive records may dictate that lack of civilian education be considered a major discriminator for selection to Sergeant Major. Force structure changes will ultimately enable every Quartermaster Soldier that reaches this level to display and be selected for operations and First Sergeant positions through talent management and not MOS.

(2) Masters Sergeants/First Sergeants should study and master the following military publications: AR 601-280, Army Retention Program; AR 600-20, Army Command Policy; DA

Pam 611-21, Military Occupational Classification and Structure; AR 840-10, Flags, Guidons, Streamers, Tabards and Automobile and Aircraft plates; and AR 220-1, Unit Status Reporting.

(3) Master Sergeants/First Sergeants should also continue to exploit other distributed learning programs and broaden their focus to include functional training. These Soldiers should recognize their new role as a senior NCO and pursue functional course offerings from various sources that will enhance their understanding of how the Army runs in order to influence and improve the Army's systems and contribute to the success of their organizations. Some of these functional courses are Joint Logistics Course, Force Management, and Senior Enlisted Joint Professional Military Education. Additionally, Master Sergeants/First Sergeants should possess a secret security clearance.

(4) The ACCP provides an excellent educational resource in continued education, leadership and technical proficiency.

(5) Additional career enhancement may be gained by continuing to pursue technical certification for civilian certifications listed on the COOL website at <http://www.cool.army.mil>. Soldiers should explore and complete appropriate credentials for their military occupational specialties and/or additional training they have been provided as it demonstrates to leaders and the Army that they have mastered those skills.

(6) Soldiers may be recognized with the following Quartermaster Awards if they meet the specific criteria: Order of Saint Martin, Culinary Specialist of the Quarter/Year, Philip A. Connelly Award (Dining Facility), Supply Excellence Award (SEA), SGM John C. Marigliano Award (Water Purification), Culinary Arts Competition Awardees, Quartermaster Distinguished Member of the Regiment and the General Brehon B. Sommervell Medallion. They may also lead their units with such excellence, that as a result, the unit is designated as Distinguished Unit of the Regiment.

f. Sergeant Major/Command Sergeant Major.

(1) The goal of the Sergeant Major/Command Sergeant Major is to possess or to be working towards a Bachelor's Degree or higher in their chosen discipline. Activities like professional reading or college courses help the Senior NCO develop organizational leadership skills needed to coach, teach and mentor Soldiers. Outstanding communications skills are required just by the nature of the number of Soldiers their communications reach. Skills in community and public relations are also important since the Sergeant Major/Command Sergeant Major will often be representing the command or Army in civic functions. They must strive to be the Strategic Multidimensional Logistician that understands and provide guidance for a full spectrum of operations from the tactical to the industrial base. They must truly understand how the Army runs and the mechanism utilized to execute the National Defense Strategy.

(2) The Sergeant Major/Command Sergeant Major should read professional reading list that the chain of command, the CSA, the SMA and others publish, that Soldiers are encouraged to read. Continued reading about world politics, geo-political issues, National Defense Strategy and Authorization Acts and Field Manuals relating to Army Operations and current battle doctrine enhance the knowledge base of the leader.

(3) Every Soldier must ensure they enroll and complete their Self Structured Development 5 (SSD 5) to commensurate with their grade.

(4) The ACCP provides an excellent educational resource in continued education, leadership and technical proficiency.

(5) Additional career enhancement may be gained by continuing to pursue technical certification for civilian certifications on the COOL website at <http://www.cool.army.mil>. Soldier should explore and complete appropriate credentials for their military occupational specialties and/or additional training they have been provided as it demonstrates to leaders and the Army that they have mastered those skills.

Chapter 4 MOS 92A Automated Logistical Specialist

a. Major duties. The Automated Logistical Specialist is responsible for supervising and performing management or warehouse functions in order to maintain equipment records and parts. Some of the major duties of an Automated Logistical Specialist include, establishing and maintaining stock records and other documents such as inventory, materiel control, accounting and supply reports; reviewing and verifying quantities received against bills of lading, contracts, purchase requests and shipping documents; unloading, unpacking, visually inspecting, counting, segregating and storing incoming supplies and equipment; performing prescribed load list and shop stock list duties in manual and automated supply applications; breaking down and distributing field rations; operating MHE and selecting correct stock for issue. At the advanced level, the Automated Logistical NCO's major duties may include, ensuring that inventories and location surveys are performed in accordance with established procedures; instruct warehouse personnel in loading, unloading and selection of stock and storage areas; recommend additions and deletions to authorized stocking list; review requests for major and controlled items; perform financial management functions and perform commissary store functions to include stock replenishment, price changes, inventories and stock receipts. The 92A may acquire the following ASIs: Air Assault (2B), Enlisted Aide (Z5), Battle Staff (2S), Combat Service Support Automation Management (N8), Jumpmaster (5W) Pathfinder (F7), Capabilities Development Course (7Y), Master Driver Trainer (M9), Master Fitness Trainer (P5), Master Resilience Trainer (8R), Operational Contracting Support NCO (3C), Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (1B); SQIs: Training Development (2), Non-Career Recruiter (4), Instructor and Writer (8), Inspector General NCO (B), Ranger (G), Linguist (L), First Sergeant (M), Parachutist (P), Equal Opportunity Advisor (Q), Special Operations Support Personnel (S), Ranger Parachutist (V), AIT Platoon Sergeant (Y) and Drill Sergeant (X).

b. Prerequisites. See DA Pam 611-21 in the HRC Smart book for details.

c. Goals for development. Automated Logistical Specialist must focus and become proficient in the skills of their MOS and continue to broaden their knowledge that will reflect positively later in their careers. Warrior Tasks and Battle Drills cannot be overlooked; the Quartermaster Soldier should enhance the tactical skills needed to survive on the battlefield and strive for excellence during the APFT and weapons qualification.

(1) Private E-1 –Specialist/Corporal

(a) Institutional Training. IET, Reclassification, BLC, Global Combat Support System-Army (GCSS-Army)..

(b) Operational assignments. Assignments in MTOE and other Operational Army units are: Equipment Records/Parts Specialist, Materiel Control/Accounting Specialist, Materiel Storage/Handling Specialist, MHE Operator, Packing/Crating Specialist, Supply Accounting Specialist, Subsistence Supply Specialist, Stock Accounting Specialist, and Vehicle Operator. Soldiers selected for TDA gain a different perspective of the unique challenges other than the operational Army. They will receive specialized training and in some cases access credentialing. These tours should be limited to one three year tour.

(c) Self-development. Self-Structured Development 1 (SSD 1). For additional information on self-development, refer to para 29-3.

(d) Additional Training. Airborne, Air Assault, Ranger, Field Sanitation, Combat Lifesaver Course, HAZMAT Course, Sling Load Inspector Course, PACK-1A-DL Military Preservation and Packaging for Storage and Shipment (Phase 1), and PACK-1B Military Preservation and Packaging for Storage and Shipment (Phase2) courses.

(e) Special assignments

1) Broadening Assignments: Security Force Assistance Brigade (SFAB).

2) MOS Enhancing: Asymmetric Warfare Group (AWG), or any Special Operations assignment as listed in para 29-2.

(2) Sergeant

(a) Institutional training. ALC, Reclassification training, Global Combat Support System-Army (GCSS-Army).

(b) Operational assignments. Assignments in MTOE and other Operational Army units are: Equipment Records/Parts NCO, Materiel Control/Accounting NCO, Materiel Management NCO, Materiel Storage/Handling NCO, Packing/Crating NCO, Ration Distribution NCO, Supply Accounting NCO, Subsistence Supply Supervisor, and Stock Accounting NCO. Soldiers selected for TDA gain a different perspective of the unique challenges other than the operational Army. They will receive specialized training and in some cases access credentialing. These tours should be limited to one three year tour, with the exception of those personnel required to complete a broadening tour in support of Army requirement such as Drill Sergeant or Instructor.

(c) Self-development. Self-Structured Development 2 (SSD 2). For additional information on self-development, refer to para 29-3. ACT <https://actnow.army.mil>

(d) Additional training. Airborne, Jumpmaster, Air Assault, Ranger, Field Sanitation, Combat Lifesaver Course, HAZMAT Course, Sling Load Inspector Course, and PACK-1A-DL Military Preservation and Packaging for Storage and Shipment (Phase 1), PACK-1B Military Preservation and Packaging for Storage and Shipment (Phase 2) courses.

(e) Special assignments.

1) Broadening Assignments: Recruiter, Drill Sergeant, and White House Communications Agency (WHCA). Security Force Assistance Brigade (SFAB).

2) MOS Enhancing: Asymmetric Warfare Group (AWG), or any Special Operations assignment as listed in para 29-2.

(3) Staff Sergeant

(a) Institutional training. ALC, SLC, Global Combat Support System-Army (GCSS-Army), Battle Staff Course (ASI 2S), Support Operations Course, Contracting Officers Representative Course, HAZMAT Course, Enlisted Aide Training Course (Z5) and Sling Load Inspector Course.

(b) Operational assignments. Assignments in MTOE and other Operational Army units are: DRMS NCO, Materiel Supply NCO, Materiel Management NCOIC, Materiel Control/Accounting NCOIC, Materiel Management NCO, Subsistence NCO, Supply Accounting NCO, and Stock Control NCO. Soldiers selected for TDA gain a different perspective of the unique challenges other than the operational Army. They will receive specialized training and in some cases access credentialing. These tours should be limited to one three year tour, with the exception of those personnel required to complete a broadening tour in support of Army requirement such as Drill, Instructor, and Writer.

(c) Self-development. Self-Structured Development 3 (SSD 3). For additional information on self-development, refer to para 29-3.

(d) Additional Training. Airborne, Jumpmaster, Air Assault, Ranger, Master Resiliency Trainer (MRT).

(e) Special assignments.

1) Broadening Assignments: Instructor and Writer; Drill Sergeant; Recruiter; AIT Platoon Sergeant; Enlisted Aide, Training with Industry, Observer Controller, Security Force Assistance Brigade (SFAB), and White House Communications Agency (WHCA).

2) MOS Enhancing: Transition Team member Force Protection NCO; Detainee NCO; Combat Patrol NCO; Transition Team NCO; Asymmetric Warfare Group (AWG); or any Special Operations assignment as listed in para 29-2.

4) Sergeant First Class

(a) Institutional training. SLC, Global Combat Support System-Army (GCSS-Army), Battle Staff Course (ASI 2S), Support Operations Course, Contracting Officers Representative Course, HAZMAT Course, and Sling Load Inspector Course, Operational Contracting Support Course (ASI 3C).

(b) Operational assignments. Assignments in MTOE and other Operational Army are: Detachment Sergeant, Platoon Sergeant, Support Operations NCO, Logistics NCO, Materiel Control NCOIC, Materiel Management NCO, Stock Control NCOIC, Subsistence NCOIC, and EOA. Soldiers selected for TDA gain a different perspective of the unique challenges other than the operational Army. They will receive specialized training and in some cases access credentialing. These tours should be limited to one three year tour, with the exception of those personnel required to complete a broadening tour in support of Army requirement such as Drill Sergeant, Instructor and Writer.

(c) Self-Development. Self-Structured Development 4 (SSD 4). For additional information on self-development, refer to para 29-3.

(d) Additional Training. Airborne, Jumpmaster, Air Assault, Ranger, and Master Resiliency Trainer (MRT).

(e) Special assignments.

1) Broadening Assignments: Drill Sergeant, Recruiter, Instructor and Writer, AIT Platoon Sergeant, Senior Small Group Leader, Branch NCOPD Instructor, Branch Professional Development NCO, Enlisted Aide, Inspector General, DLA, Career Management NCO, Training with Industry, Equal Opportunity Advisor, Security Force Assistance Brigade (SFAB), and White House Communications Agency (WHCA).

2) MOS Enhancing: Overseas Contingency Assignment, Transition Team member, Force Protection NCO, Detainee NCO, Combat Patrol NCO, Transition Team NCO, Asymmetric Warfare Group (AWG), Ranger BN or any Special Operations assignment as listed in para 29-2.

(f) Army career degrees. See SOCAD Army Career Degree Program.

(g) GI to Jobs. See GI to Jobs COOL Website.

(5) Master Sergeant/First Sergeant

(a) Institutional training. MLC, Global Combat Support System-Army (GCSS-Army), USASMA (SGM Course for selected Soldiers), Battle Staff Course (ASI 2S), Support Operations Course, and Contracting Officer Representative Course, Operational Contracting Support Course (ASI 3C)

(b) Operational assignments. Assignments in MTOE and other Operational Army are: First Sergeant, Operations NCO, Support Operations NCO, Materiel Management NCO, and Logistics Service NCO. Soldiers selected for TDA gain a different perspective of the unique challenges other than the operational Army. They will receive specialized training and in some cases access credentialing. These tours should be limited to one three year tour, with the exception of those personnel required to complete a broadening tour in support of Army requirement such as Chief Instructor and Writer and Chief Training/Writer Development.

(c) Self-Development. For additional information on self-development, refer to para 29-3. ACT <https://actnow.army.mil>

(d) Additional Training. Airborne, Jumpmaster, Air Assault, Ranger, Battle Staff Course (ASI 2S), and Support Operations Course, Operational Contracting Support Course (ASI 3C), Master Resiliency Trainer (MRT), and Army Logistics University (ALU) courses.

(e) Special assignments.

1) Broadening Assignments: Chief Instructor and Writer, Enlisted Personnel Development NCO, Senior Career Manager, Equal Opportunity Advisor, DLA, Inspector General NCO, Enlisted Aid, Security Force Assistance Brigade (SFAB), and Training with Industry.

(f) Army career degrees. See SOCAD Army Career Degree Program.

(g) GI to Jobs. See GI to Jobs COOL Website. (f) Army career degrees. See SOCAD Army Career Degree Program.

(6) Sergeant Major/Command Sergeant Major

(a) Soldiers with the MOS 92A convert to MOS 92Z, Senior Logistics NCO at the rank of SGM. See para 29-31 for additional information.

Chapter 5 MOS 92A Professional Development Model

The Professional Development Model for MOS 92A. Access to the “Career Maps” can be accessed from the ACT Web site. They are located under the career resources tab at the following Web address: <https://actnow.army.mil>.

Chapter 6 MOS 92A Reserve Components

The Reserve Component contains a significant proportion of the Quartermaster Corps Soldiers. The Reserve Component Quartermaster Soldier performs the same mission and must maintain the same standards of proficiency as their fellow Soldiers in the Active Army. Duty assignments for career progression in the Reserve Component parallel that of the Active Army. Although geographical limitations will determine the types of units in which Reserve Component Soldiers serve, the Reserve Component professional development NCOES satisfies professional development and functional area requirements. Due to geographical location or other considerations, the Reserve Component Quartermaster NCO may not have the opportunity to become as experienced in MOS operations at each grade level.

Chapter 7 MOS 92F Petroleum Supply Specialist

a. Major duties. The Petroleum Supply Specialist is responsible for supervising and managing the reception, storage and shipping of bulk, or packaged petroleum-based products. Some of the major duties of a Petroleum Supply Specialist include: dispensing bulk fuels from storage and distribution facilities; selecting and submitting samples of petroleum, oils, and lubricants to laboratories for testing; performing petroleum accounting duties; take emergency precautions to prevent harm to self and facilities in the event of petroleum spillage or fire; connects hoses and valves and operating pumps to load petroleum products into tanker trucks, light and heavy wheeled vehicles, aircraft, ships, railcars; and repair pipeline systems, hoses, valves, and pumps. At the advanced level, the Petroleum Supply NCO’s major duties include: spot checking work quality; assuring adherence to safety procedures; supervises aircraft refueling and defueling operations; directs reclamation and disposition for petroleum products and assigns duties to junior grade Petroleum Supply Specialists. Chapter 17 MOS 92M Professional Development Model

The Professional Development Model for MOS 92M. Access to the “Career Maps” can be accessed from the ACT Web site. They are located under the career resources tab at the following Web address: <https://actnow.army.mil>.

Chapter 18 MOS 92M Reserve Component

The Reserve Component contains a significant proportion of the Quartermaster Corps Soldiers. The Reserve Component Quartermaster Soldier performs the same mission and must maintain the same standards of proficiency as their fellow Soldiers in the Active Army. Duty assignments for career progression in the Reserve Component parallel that of the Active Army. Although geographical limitations will determine the types of units in which Reserve Component Soldiers serve, the Reserve Component professional development NCOES satisfies professional development and functional area requirements. Due to geographical location or other considerations, the Reserve Component Quartermaster NCO may not have the opportunity to become as experienced in MOS operations at each grade level.

Chapter 19 MOS 92R Parachute Rigger

a. Major duties. The Parachute Rigger is responsible for repairing textile and canvas items, webbed equipment and clothing. Some of the major duties for the Parachute Rigger may include, inspecting parachutes for rips and tangled lines; packing parachutes for safe operation; sewing, patching, darning and basting worn or damaged fabrics. Advanced level Parachute Riggers supervise and train the other Soldiers within the 92R MOS. The advance level Parachute Riggers are involved in inspecting, classifying, and determine reparability of textile, canvas and webbed items received for repair. The 92R may acquire the following ASI: Jumpmaster (5W), Enlisted Aide (Z5), Air Assault (2B), Battle Staff (2S), Combat Service Support Automation Management (N8), Military Free Fall (W8), Pathfinder (F7), Capabilities Development Course (7Y), Master Driver Trainer (M9), Master Fitness Trainer (P5), Master Resilience Trainer (8R), Operational Contracting Support NCO (3C), Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (1B);SQIs: Training Development (2), Non-Career Recruiter (4), Instructor (8), Inspector General NCO (B), Ranger (G), Linguist (L), First Sergeant (M), Parachutist (P), Equal Opportunity Advisor (Q), Special Operations Support Personnel (S), Ranger Parachutist (V), and Drill Sergeant (X)

b. Prerequisites. See DA Pam 611-21 in the HRC Smart book for details.

c. Goals for development. The Parachute Rigger must focus and become proficient in the skills of their MOS and continue to broaden their knowledge that will in turn reflect on them positively later on in their careers. The Parachute Rigger should become a Jumpmaster (5W) by the rank of SSG which is critical to the overall success, health and readiness of the Rigger Military Occupational Specialty. Warrior Tasks and Battle Drills cannot be overlooked; the Quartermaster Soldier should hone the tactical skills needed to survive on the battlefield and strive for excellence during the APFT and weapons qualification.
